ABOUT THIS PROPERTY

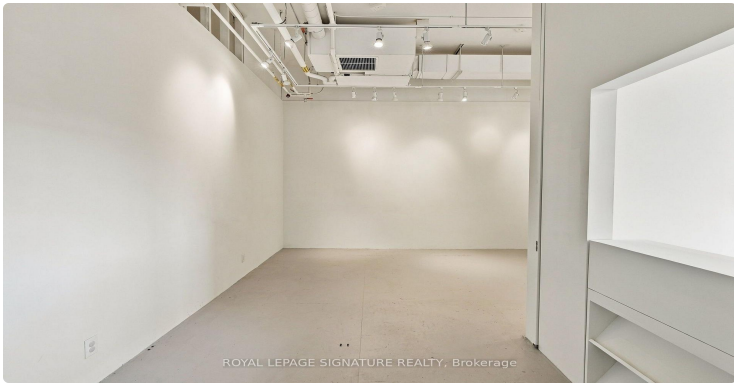

Built in 1914 as the historic Shaw Street School, 180 Shaw Street has been part of Toronto's story for over a century. Today, this beautifully restored landmark is home to Young place, a vibrant creative and cultural community in the heart of West Queen West. Now, an opportunity to own your own piece of that history. Suite 302 offers approximately 500 sq. ft. of inspiring workspace, where soaring ceilings, original classroom cabinetry and a flexible layout bring together the character of the past with the possibilities of today. Ideal for creative professionals, designers, architects, consultants or corporate professionals looking for something beyond the traditional office. Whether you're building your business, meeting clients or simply looking for a space that inspires you, this is an opportunity to own rather than rent in one of Toronto's most distinctive neighbourhoods. Just steps from Trinity Bellwoods Park, Queen Street West and the surrounding shops, cafes and restaurants. A workspace with history, character and room for your next chapter.
